Cancellation No. 92055358

Mark

Registration No: 3611357

Registration Date: April 28, 2009

REGISTRANT'S REPLY TO PETITIONER'S OPPOSITION AGAINST REGISTRANT'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Urban Asphalt Skatewear ("Registrant" or "Urban Asphalt") submits this Reply to Under Armour, Inc. ("Petitioner") Opposition to Registrant's Motion for Summary Judgment ("Petitioner's Opposition" or "Opposition") pursuant to 37 C.F.R. §2.127 (e)(1). Urban Asphalt respectfully denies Petitioner's assertion that Urban Asphalt is not entitled to summary judgment because there are numerous disputed issues of material fact relevant to whether the Urban Asphalt Mark (Registration No. 3611357) is likely to cause confusion with and/or dilute Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Marks and Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks. For the reasons addressed in Urban Asphalt's Motion for Summary Judgment ("MSJ") and in this Reply, there are no disputed issues of material fact and, viewing the evidence in a light most favorable to the non-moving party, Urban Asphalt's Motion for Summary Judgment should be granted in favor of Urban Asphalt.

I. STATEMENT OF FACTS

Petitioner's 46 registrations asserted against Urban Asphalt's Mark in this Cancellation proceeding have been provided and classified in Registrant's MSJ (MSJ 3-6) as Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Marks and Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks (or collectively, "Petitioner's Marks"). The commingling of these distinct classes of marks (design marks and word marks) into a single classification of "UA Marks" by Petitioner (Petitioner's Opposition 2) attenuates the distinct analysis required for each category of mark, including the likelihood of confusion and dilution factors. As such, Urban Asphalt continues its analysis under the same classifications as in its MSJ.

Further, in Petitioner's Opposition, Petitioner states "the filing of most of Under Armour's registrations occurred before the filing of Urban Asphalt's Registration No. 3611357." (Petitioner's Opposition 3). Even still, of the relevant 46 registrations cited by Petitioner against the Urban Asphalt Mark, 21 of those registrations occurred after the registration of the Urban Asphalt Mark (i.e., almost half of Petitioner's asserted registrations). To further break down those 21 registrations, six were filed after the filing date of the Urban Asphalt Mark and the remaining 15 were filed after the registration of the Urban Asphalt Mark. (Exhibit A).

Moreover, in its response Petitioner attempts to introduce two additional marks, Reg. No. 3880683 and Serial No. 85209107, both in International Class 16 for "stickers". (Petitioner's Opposition 14). It is noted that Petitioner failed to properly introduce the above registration and application into the record and, as such, they are not of record and should not be considered by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board ("Board") in this motion for summary judgment. TBMP §704.03(b)(1).

Additionally, Urban Asphalt, provides evidence rebutting Petitioner's claim (Petitioner's Opposition 16-17) that Urban Asphalt has not provided evidence that third-party trademarks were well-promoted, used, and recognized for the purpose of showing a crowded field and that Petitioner does not enjoy substantially exclusive use of the literal elements "UA" for Petitioner's dilution by blurring claim. (See Exhibit B); (MSJ 19); cf. San Fernando Elec. Mfg. Co. v. JFD Electronics Components Corp., 565 F.2d 683 (C.C.P.A. 1977); cf. In re Mighty Leaf Tea, 601 F.3d 1342 (Fed. Cir. 2010)

II. SUMMARY JUDGMENT AGAINST PETITIONERS' LIKELIHOOD OF CONFUSION CLAIM SHOULD BE GRANTED IN FAVOR OF URBAN ASPHALT

a. Fame of Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Marks or Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks Fails to Raise a Genuine Issue of Material Fact

In Petitioner's Cancellation, Petitioner relies extensively on the alleged fame of both Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Marks and/or Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks and a fame-influenced and facilitated likelihood of confusion. Indeed, Petitioner goes so far as to declare “as the fame of a mark increases, the degree of similarity between the marks and goods and services necessary to support a likelihood of confusion decreases.” (Petitioner’s Opposition 4 citing Bose Corp. v. QSC Audio Prods., 63 USPQ2d 1303, 1309 (Fed. Cir. 2002)). Respectfully, Petitioner’s axiomatic assertion is misplaced.

Federal Circuit precedent recognizes the interaction of fame and the similarity or relatedness of goods in the likelihood of confusion analysis. Bose Corp. 63 USPQ2d 1303 at 1305. So, where a mark is famous, fame deserves its full measure of weight in assessing a likelihood of confusion between two marks. Recot, Inc., 214 F. 3d 1322, 1328 (Fed. Cir. 2000). However, fame alone cannot overwhelm the other DuPont factors as a matter of law. Recot 214 F.3d at 1328; (MSJ 14). Likelihood to cause confusion means more than the likelihood that the public will recall a famous mark on seeing the same mark used by another. It must also be established that there is a reasonable basis for the public to attribute the particular product or service of another to the source of the goods or services associated with the famous mark. To hold otherwise would result in recognizing a right in gross, which is contrary to principles of trademark law. U. of Notre Dame Du Lac v. JC Gourmet Food, 703 F. 2d 1372, 1374 (Fed. Cir. 1983); See also Coach Servs. v. Triumph Learning LLC, 668 F.3d 1356, 1367 (Fed. Cir. 2012).

Since fame alone, as a matter of law, cannot overwhelm the other DuPont factors, the other DuPont factors enumerated in Registrant’s MSJ (MSJ 11-16) and Reply must be given their proper weight in this motion for summary judgment. Likelihood of confusion and the analysis of the DuPont factors, including fame and the dissimilarity of the marks, is a question of law. Giant Food, Inc. v. Nation’s Foodservice, Inc., 710 F.2d 1565 (Fed. Cir. 1983); Cunningham v. Laser Golf Corp., 222 F.3d 943 (Fed. Cir. 2000). As much as Petitioner alleges that its Stylized “UA” Design Marks and “UA” Word Marks enjoy “game-changing” fame (Petitioner’s Opposition 12), the factors enumerated in Registrant’s MSJ and Reply, even when factoring fame and viewing the evidence in a light most favorable to the non-moving party, weigh in favor of finding no likelihood of confusion between Petitioner’s Marks and the Urban Asphalt Mark. (MSJ 11-16). As such, no genuine issue of material fact exists and summary judgment should be granted in favor of Urban Asphalt.

b. Dissimilarity of Marks in Sound, Appearance, Connotation, and Overall Commercial Impression Fails to Raise a Genuine Issue of Material Fact

In the Opposition, Petitioner fails to raise any genuine issue of material fact as to the dissimilarity of the marks. The dissimilarity of the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Marks/Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks is dispositive and substantially outweighs any other relevant factors. Missiontrek Ltd. V. Onfolio, Inc., 80 U.S.P.Q.2d 1381 (TTAB 2005); accord Kellogg Co. v. Pack'Em Enterprises, Inc., 951 F.2d 330 (Fed. Cir. 1991); See also (MSJ 13-14). Since likelihood of confusion is a question of law, application of the DuPont factors as enumerated in Urban Asphalt's MSJ and Reply is proper.

Petitioner focuses on the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks containing "the identical literal portion 'UA'" and that the Urban Asphalt Mark "presents the letters 'UA' in the same format as [Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Mark]" (Petitioner's Opposition 12-13). Registrant addressed this issue in the MSJ, and reiterates that the Urban Asphalt Mark is visually and phonetically distinct from all of Petitioner's Marks, the Urban Asphalt Mark is not in the same format as Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Mark but in fact is clearly distinct, and the Urban Asphalt Mark has different commercial impressions and connotations from Petitioner's Marks. (MSJ 12-13, 15). Indeed, Petitioner's focus on the design element of the Urban Asphalt Mark alone highlights Petitioner's failure to compare the marks in their entireties. The Urban Asphalt Mark does not solely consist of the Design Portion, but also consists of the word elements "Urban Asphalt". M.C.I. Foods, Inc. v. Brady Bunte, 96 U.S.P.Q.2d 1544 (TTAB 2010) (In a word-design combination mark, the word is normally accorded greater weight); Columbian Steel Tank Co. v. Union Tank & Supply Co., 277 F.2d 192 (C.C.P.A. 1960); Arnold, Schwinn & co. v. Evans Products Co., 302 F.2d 765 (C.C.P.A. 1962); In re Electrolyte Laboratories, Inc., 913 F.2d 930 (Fed. Cir. 1990). To determine a likelihood of confusion, it is necessary to compare the marks in their entireties as to not dissect the marks. In re Shell Oil Co., 992 F.2d 1204 (Fed. Cir. 1993) (MSJ 7-9, 11). The determination of the dissimilarity of the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks is a question of law and, in light most favorable to the non-moving party, Petitioner has failed to raise any genuine issue of material fact as to the dissimilarity of the marks.

c. Office Actions from an Examining Attorney Is Not Conclusive or Probative Evidence of Actual Confusion or a Likelihood of Confusion

Petitioner fails to raise a genuine issue of material fact when alleging that two United States Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”) Examining Attorneys have “refused” registration on Application Serial No. 85209107 and Serial No. 77819895. (Petitioner’s Opposition 13). This statement is misleading; Serial No. 77819895 matured into registration on December 28, 2010 and Serial No. 85209107 was suspended by Petitioner by commencing this Cancellation. It should be noted that both Application Serial Nos. 85209107 and 77819895 were both for Petitioner’s “UA” Word Marks.

Petitioner relies on the Examining Attorneys refusal as conclusive evidence that there is a likelihood of confusion between the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner’s Marks; previous Office Actions by examining attorneys do not raise a genuine issue of material fact. An Office Action by an Examining Attorney at the USPTO alleging confusing similarity between marks can be overcome in numerous manners, including submitting arguments showing there is no likelihood of confusion. Indeed, Office Actions are not a final refusal by the USPTO and can and have been appealed and overturned by the Board. There is no res judicata effect of an ex parte determination of an examining attorney on the issue of likelihood of confusion, with respect to a later cancellation or opposition proceeding brought by the owner of the cited mark considered by the examining attorney. Worthington Corp. v. Air Conditioning Heating Specialists, Inc., 148 USPQ 392 (TTAB 1965); Gruen Industries, Inc. v. Ray Curran & Co., 152 USPQ 778 (TTAB 1967); H. Sichel Sohne, GmbH v. John Gross & Co., 204 USPQ 257 (TTAB 1979); McDonald’s Corp. v. McClain, 37 U.S.P.Q.2d 1274 (TTAB 1995). A likelihood of confusion analysis is not whether a judge, jury, or examining attorney would be personally confused, but rather, whether the ordinary, prudent customer in the marketplace would likely be confused. In re Save Venice New York, Inc., 259 F.3d 1346 (Fed. Cir. 2001). As such, Petitioner fails to establish there is a likelihood of confusion between the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks and fails to raise a genuine issue of material fact in regard to the previous actions by the examining attorneys.

d. Use of "UA" on Urban Asphalt's Website Is Irrelevant to this Proceeding

Petitioner details that "Urban Asphalt has used the block letter form of the mark 'UA' ... to refer to Urban Asphalt on its Facebook page and website" (Petitioner's Opposition 13). The alleged use by Urban Asphalt on its website and Facebook page is out of the scope of this Cancellation; the issue in a cancellation proceeding is the cancellation of a registration, not the cancellation of common law rights in a trademark. Crash Dummy Movie, LLC v. Mattel, Inc., 601 F.3d 1387 (Fed. Cir. 2010). That is, the use alleged by Petitioner in its Opposition does not involve the Urban Asphalt Mark and is irrelevant to this Cancellation proceeding.

e. Urban Asphalt's Goods Are Not Related to Petitioner's Goods

Petitioner's reliance on Octocom Systems and Hewlett-Packard is misplaced because these cases discuss the similarity/dissimilarity of goods for a trademark opposition, not a cancellation. (See Petitioner's Opposition 14-15). In an opposition proceeding, the only issue is registrability of the mark applied for on the goods or services specified. Octocom Systems, Inc. v. Houston Computer Services, Inc., 918 F.2d 937 (Fed. Cir. 1990); 4 J. Thomas McCarthy, Trademarks and Unfair Competition §24:43 (4th ed. 2012). In a cancellation, the issue is not whether purchasers would confuse the goods, but rather whether there is a likelihood of confusion as to the source of the goods. Teledyne Technologies, Inc. v. Western Skyways, Inc., 78 U.S.P.Q.2d 1203 (TTAB 2006); In re Rexel Inc., 223 USPQ 830 (TTAB 1984). It is sufficient that the respective goods of the parties are related in some manner, and/or that the conditions and activities surrounding the marketing of the goods are such that they would or could be encountered by the same persons under circumstances that could, because of the similarity of the marks, give rise to the mistaken belief that they originate from the same source. See Hilson Research, Inc. v. Society for Human Resource Management, 27 USPQ2d 1423 (TTAB 1993); In re International Telephone & Telephone Corp., 197 USPQ 910, 911 (TTAB 1978).

It should be noted that when comparing the goods where identical marks are involved, the degree of similarity between the parties' goods that is required to support a finding of likelihood of confusion declines. In re Shell Oil Co., 992 F.2d 1204, 26 U.S.P.Q.2d 1687, 1688-1689 (Fed. Cir. 1993); Time Warner Entertainment Co. v. Jones, 65 U.S.P.Q.2d 1650, 1661 (TTAB 2002); In re Opus One Inc., 60 U.S.P.Q.2d 1812 (TTAB 2001). In the case at hand, the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks are not identical or similar. (MSJ 11-16).

Proper analysis of relatedness of goods requires a finding that in the mind of the consuming public, goods come from the same source, or are somehow connected with or sponsored by a common company. Shen Mfg. Co., Inc. v. Ritz Hotel, Ltd., 393 F.3d 1238 (Fed. Cir. 2004); 4 J. Thomas McCarthy, Trademarks and Unfair Competition §24:24 (4th ed. 2012). If customers are likely to mistakenly think that the Urban Asphalt goods come from the same source as Petitioner's goods, or are sponsored by, affiliated with, or connected with Petitioner, the goods are related. In re Save Venice New York Inc., 259 F.3d 1346 (Fed. Cir. 2001). This related goods test is an observation to be made after full analysis of the facts shows that there is a likelihood of confusion as to source, affiliation, sponsorship or connection because of the similarity of the marks and other facts in the case. 4 J. Thomas McCarthy, Trademarks and Unfair Competition §24:25 (4th ed. 2012).

Petitioner fails to raise any genuine issue of material fact that customers are likely to think that Urban Asphalt goods come from the same source as, or are sponsored by, affiliated with, or connected with Petitioner. The common goods between Urban Asphalt and Petitioner in this Cancellation is wearing apparel. Applying the related goods test, the dissimilarity of the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks, along with no actual confusion after concurrent use of the marks for nearly five years and other facts, mitigates any likelihood that consumers will mistakenly think that Urban Asphalt goods are related with Petitioner's goods. (MSJ 11-16) When considering the relatedness of wearing apparel, as is the case here, even similar marks used on items of wearing apparel may coexist without confusion. See In re British Bulldog, Ltd., 224 USPQ 854 (TTAB 1984); In re Shoe Works, Inc., 6 U.S.P.Q.2d 1890 (TTAB 1988); The H.D. Lee Company, Inc. v. Maiden-form, Inc., 87 U.S.P.Q.2d 1715 (TTAB 2008). Bearing in mind the dissimilarity of the Urban Asphalt Mark when compared to Petitioner's Marks and all of the other DuPont factors, the use of the Urban Asphalt Mark on wearing apparel is unlikely to cause any consumer confusion as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or connection of Urban Asphalt with Petitioner. In re Jeep Corp., 222 USPQ 333 (TTAB 1984). As such, viewing the evidence on record in a light most favorable to Petitioner, summary judgment in Urban Asphalt's favor is appropriate.

f. Lack of Actual Confusion Is a DuPont Factor and Relevant

Petitioner states that actual confusion is not required to establish likelihood of confusion (Petitioner's Opposition 15). This statement is correct. However, Petitioner's claim that "actual confusion is notoriously difficult to document" (Petitioner's Opposition 15) should not and does not discount the relevance of the seventh DuPont factor in this Cancellation, nor does it raise a genuine issue of material fact.

The Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Stylized "UA" Design Marks and Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks have been in concurrent use for nearly five years (first use in commerce date of the Urban Asphalt Mark is March 31, 2008), which provides a reasonable opportunity for actual confusion to occur. Indeed, Registrant is still unaware of and Petitioner fails to allege any actual confusion between the marks. (MSJ 16 and Petitioners Opposition 15-16). That there is no actual confusion between the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks is relevant evidence in a likelihood of confusion analysis. Smith v. Tobacco By-Products and Chemical Corp., 243 F.2d 188 (C.C.P.A 1957); Citigroup Inc. v. Capital City Bank Group Inc., 94 U.S.P.Q2d 1645 (TTAB 2010); aff'd 637 F.3d 1344 (Fed. Cir. 2011) As such, viewing the evidence on record in a light most favorable to Petitioner, Petitioner has failed to raise a genuine issue of material fact and failed to discount the probative value of the seventh DuPont factor in this proceeding.

III. SUMMARY JUDGMENT AGAINST PETITIONER'S DILUTION CLAIM SHOULD BE GRANTED IN FAVOR OF URBAN ASPHALT

a. Standard for Dilution

As previously discussed in Urban Asphalt's MSJ (MSJ 9-11), a mark is entitled to dilution protection only when such mark is widely recognized by the general consuming public of the United States as a designation of source of the goods or services of the mark's owner. 15 USC §1125(c)(2)(A). To establish fame of a mark, all relevant factors, including the four factors enumerated in 15 USC §1125(c)(2)(A), must be considered. However, it is well-established that fame for dilution claims is difficult to prove. Coach Services, Inc. v. Triumph Learning LLC, 668 F.3d 1356 (Fed. Cir. 2012)

Although the fame of Petitioner's "UA" Word Marks is questionable (MSJ 17), even when assuming that Petitioner can establish fame of Petitioner's Marks, fame alone is insufficient to sustain Petitioner's dilution by blurring or dilution by tarnishment through summary judgment. (Petitioner's Opposition 16). Dilution claims are either dilution by blurring and/or dilution by tarnishment. 15 USC §1125(c)(1). Petitioner's inability to claim any genuine issue of material fact for either of those dilution claims demonstrates that there is no genuine issue of material fact that would make summary judgment in favor of Urban Asphalt inappropriate. The fame of Petitioner's Marks is not a genuine issue of material fact that would alter the legal conclusion that dilution by blurring or dilution by tarnishment of Petitioner's Marks has not and/or will not occur. (MSJ 17-20).

b. Petitioner Raised No Genuine Issue of Material Fact Raised Regarding Dilution by Blurring

Petitioner fails to discuss and fails to allege any genuine issue of material fact in its Opposition regarding its dilution by blurring claim. Indeed, Petitioner fails to discuss or introduce any evidence to satisfy any of the six statutory factors for dilution by blurring enumerated in 15 USC §1125(c)(2)(B). Petitioner claims that the Urban Asphalt Mark is "substantially similar," without any substantive discussion on how Petitioner reaches this conclusion. (Petitioner's Opposition 18)

However, the test is whether the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks are similar enough that consumers will be immediately reminded of Petitioner's Marks. Rolex Watch U.S.A., Inc. v. AFP Imaging Corporation, 101 U.S.P.Q.2d 1188 (Fed. Cir. 2012) As discussed in detail in Urban Asphalt MSJ (MSJ 17-20), the evidence of record, even when viewed in a light most favorable to Petitioner, points to the legal conclusion that consumers are not and will not be immediately reminded of Petitioner's Marks when encountering the Urban Asphalt Mark. The dissimilarity of the marks, the lack of intent by

Urban Asphalt to create an association with Petitioner and Petitioner's Marks, the lack of any actual association between the Urban Asphalt Mark and Petitioner's Marks, and Petitioner's lack of substantially exclusive use of the literal element "UA" clearly indicates that there is no dilution by blurring. (MSJ 17-20) As such, granting a motion for summary judgment in favor of Urban Asphalt and dismissal of Petitioner's dilution by blurring claim is proper.

c. No Genuine Issue of Material Fact Raised by Petitioner Regarding Dilution by Tarnishment

Petitioner fails to discuss and fails to allege any genuine issue of material fact in its Opposition regarding its dilution by tarnishment claim. Petitioner has not alleged/provided any evidence of tarnishment, nor has Petitioner even claimed that there is any genuine issue of material fact regarding dilution by tarnishment. As discussed in Urban Asphalt's MSJ (20-21), the Urban Asphalt Mark has not and is not used in a manner to cause tarnishment. As such, there is no genuine issue of material fact regarding Petitioner's tarnishment claim, and viewing the evidence in a light most favorable to Petitioner, the motion for summary judgment should be rendered in favor of Urban Asphalt.

IV. CONCLUSION

For the reasons discussed above and in Urban Asphalt's MSJ, Urban Asphalt respectfully requests that Urban Asphalt's Motion for Summary Judgment be granted and that this Cancellation be dismissed with prejudice.

About the United Association

The United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States, Canada and Australia (UA), affiliated with the national building trades, represents approximately 370,000 plumbers, pipe fitters, sprinkler fitters and service technicians in North America and Australia. The "UA", as it is commonly known is a multi-craft union whose members are engaged in the fabrication, installation and servicing of piping systems.

The United Association has been training qualified pipe tradesmen longer than anyone else in the industry. The UA boasts the premier training programs available in the industry today, including five-year apprenticeship programs, extensive journeyman training organized instructor training, and certification programs.

Two Nations, One Union

The bonds of brotherhood recognize no political or geographic boundaries when it comes to United Association membership. Ours is truly an international organization with more than 50,000 UA brothers and sisters located in Canada. Working with the same pride and determination as their fellow members in the U.S., our Canadian brothers and sisters continue to demonstrate the high degree of quality craftsmanship necessary to construct the homes, schools, office buildings, refineries, power plants and industrial facilities necessary to a strong and vibrant national economy. At the same time, our fellow members north of the border play an important role in helping to maintain and promote United Association solidarity as we join together to reap the benefits of unionism and pride in our united cause.

How Does The United Association Operate?

The United Association is led by a group of General Officers who are elected by the delegates at a convention held every five years. Members who attend these conventions as delegates are elected by their fellow members at the local union level.

The General Office has many departments and functions, including Jurisdiction, Organizing, Training, Legislative and Safety. Each General Officer pledges to uphold the United Association constitution and to protect the interest and welfare of all members.

How Many Locals and Members Are In The United Association?

Currently there are over 300 local unions in the United Association, in excess of 370,000 members.

The local unions are located in all of the 50 states of America and every province of Canada. Members are free to travel from one local area to another to satisfy the needs of local work conditions.

Founded in 1889, the United Association is one of the most respected and influential building trades unions in the U.S. and Canada today. It serves as a collective voice for workers through negotiation and collective bargaining with employing contractor groups, such as the Mechanical Contractors Association of America, and the National Association of Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors. The UA is also a key member of the Building and Construction Trades Department, the AFL-CIO, and the Canadian Federation of Labour.

United Association History

UA History

The birth of the United Association dates back to the year 1889, when a Boston plumber named P. J. Quinlan addressed a brief letter to Richard A. O'Brien, a plumber in Washington, D.C. "Dear Sir and Brother," the letter began, "I take the liberty of addressing a few lines to you to obtain your views as regards the formation of a United Brotherhood..."

The author of the letter would become the first General President and its recipient the first General Secretary-Treasurer of the United Association.

Prior to 1889, plumbers, steamfitters and gas fitters who were organized were members of independent local unions with either no affiliation, or affiliation with a variety of trades.

By 1889, however, with existing organizations declining or becoming devoted to only one craft, local union leaders began to consider other ways to unite national pipe trades journeymen to deal with mutual problems, including how to treat traveling members, build apprenticeship, and provide strike aid.

In response to these issues, the United Association was officially born on October 11, 1889. The original name of the organization was the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers of the United States and Canada.

The Early 1900's

At the turn of the century, early UA leaders faced new challenges and were forced to make numerous controversial and revolutionary decisions. Among these was establishment of a mechanism that would allow UA members to travel to jobs throughout the United States and Canada. The clearance card system was created to enable unemployed journeymen in one locality to travel to work in another.

This "mobility" became especially important during the early 1900's, when the construction industry entered a period of tremendous expansion. From 1898 to 1914, the UA quadrupled its membership.

During these years, under the leadership of General President John S. Kelley, steps were taken to strengthen the UA on a national basis. One of those was establishment of the stamp system of dues collection. This move dramatically improved the UA's financial stability and provided a means of compiling a reliable list of affiliated local unions and their membership.

Significant progress toward a sound, modern union came in 1902 in Omaha, Nebraska, when delegates to the UA convention approved a plan to provide a comprehensive system of sick, death and strike benefits.

The UA's nationalization efforts were further strengthened during the general presidency of John R. Alpine from 1906 to 1919. His term in office was marked by extraordinary executive skills that resulted in the implementation of many important reforms and changes in an atmosphere of harmony.

The Great Depression

During the first two decades of the 20th century, the UA moved boldly into the forefront of the American labor movement. Landmark accomplishments included the creation of a formal five-year apprenticeship program, the expansion of UA influence to include construction of industrial plants and public utilities, and a growth in membership to 60,000 by the year 1929.

Then disaster struck in the form of the Great Depression. With the stock market crash of 1929 and the failure of many banks, the U.S. and Canadian economies could not sustain the level of growth that had been experienced following World War I. As a result, construction came to a standstill, UA membership dropped to less than 35,000, and no conventions were held between 1928 and 1938.

The Depression took a heavy toll on the UA. Members who had worked all their lives suddenly found themselves without jobs, suffering economic deprivation and a loss of pride. Nevertheless, these years were marked by courage and sacrifice, with members helping members so that all might survive.

With the advent of the New Deal under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the UA went back to work. UA members throughout the United States and Canada undertook the extensive projects we now recognize as lasting monuments to perseverance in the face of adversity.

Through the Public Works Administration and the Works Progress Administration, the UA helped build the dams, roads, libraries, schools, public buildings and housing projects that are an enduring legacy to the craftsmanship of UA workers and other members of the building trades.

World War II

By 1941, UA membership had reached 81,000. That number soared to 210,000 during World War II. Thousands of UA members enlisted in the armed forces and served bravely in conflicts all over the world. Back home, UA members were put to work in shipyards, weapons plants, aircraft factories and other facilities. Some members also served in military construction units overseas.

During these years, the UA grew in both membership and prestige. Wartime construction contributed to this rise, but other events also enhanced the strength of the UA. One of those was the development of national agreements between the UA and large, national contractors. The landmark UA-NCA (National Constructors Association) National Construction Agreement was signed in 1941.

The post-war years were also marked by the rise of one of organized labor's most prominent leaders -- George Meany, the first president of the newly-formed merger of the two principal labor organizations (the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations) into the AFL-CIO. A plain-spoken man of great courage and dignity, he was perhaps the most influential figure in shaping the American labor movement from the mid-1950's until his death in 1980. George Meany was also a proud member of United Association Local 2 in New York City.

The ties between the UA and the AFL-CIO have always been strong. The UA became an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor in 1897, and the United Association General Office in Washington, D.C. was originally built by Samuel Gompers in 1915-16 to serve as AFL headquarters. Today, the UA is one of the strongest forces within the Building and Construction Trades Department of the AFL-CIO.

A New Millennium Of Pride Through Excellence

In 1989, the UA proudly celebrated its 100th anniversary. As we move into the new century, the UA remains a strong, vital organization comprised of thousands of highly skilled men and women who have joined together for a common purpose. Today's UA members use their skills in commercial, industrial and residential arenas. Among the many projects on which UA members can be found are single-family homes, garden and high-rise apartment buildings, large and small office complexes, power plants, refineries and factories.

The pipe trades industry provides water supply, waste and sewage services, water treatment and sewage treatment systems. In addition, the UA's jurisdiction includes heating, air conditioning and refrigeration systems, along with automatic-sprinkler and fire-protection systems.

To ensure that there remains a steady supply of tradesmen skilled enough to meet the challenges of today's diverse and expanding construction industry, the UA has shaped a superb training program. In fact, the UA's commitment to training is unsurpassed among trade unions worldwide. The journeymen produced by this training program over the years are the backbone of the United Association.

From humble beginnings of 40 delegates representing 23 independent unions in 10 states and the District of Columbia, the United Association has grown to a powerful, international union representing over 300,000 members in more than 300 local unions throughout the United States and Canada.

The UA has been at the forefront of the fight for worker's rights for over 100 years. Now, as we move into a new millenium we are faced with many new and imposing obstacles. To prepare our membership for the rapid advancements in technology and the way business is conducted, the UA has developed one of the most extensive training programs of any union in the world, spending more than $1 million dollars a week ensuring that our members are prepared for the future.

The UA's Green Initiative

The United Association (UA) is a multi-craft union representing Plumbers, Pipefitters, Sprinkler Fitters, and HVACR Service Technicians throughout North America.

The USGBC's LEED® rating system standards for Storm Water Design, Water Efficiency, Energy & Atmosphere, and Indoor Environmental Quality transform are architectural and engineering concepts that are transformed into reality by the knowledge and hands-on skills of UA workers.

The design and installation of sustainable water and energy systems in our buildings and homes are just the starting point of energy efficiency and sustainability. If a building or home is to remain "green over time," it must be maintained and serviced by workers who feel ownership in the Green Building Movement.

From installation and startup, to scheduled or emergency service, UA workers are involved at every stage in life of an industrial, commercial, or residential building.

Environmental systems in the commercial and residential structures, in which these new workers would live and work, became more and more complex, our national educational system reduced or eliminated essential training in hands-on skills and related craft areas.

The UA skilled trades training programs were never reduced in size or scope. Since we could no longer assume that entry level students were familiar with shop safety, basic physics, mechanical principles or the use of hand tools, we made sure that our training programs provided the foundation for the more complex training to come. In a sense, our union became the repository of the hands-on knowledge no longer provided by high school shop programs.

UA Skilled Trades Training

Today, UA Training Department programs proudly graduate "knowledge workers" with technology skills plus hands-on skills and Associate Degrees in Construction Supervision and Sustainable Technology – with majors in Plumbing, Pipefitting, Sprinkler Fitting or HVACR. UA pipe trades industry workers are the heart, lungs, brain, and circulatory system of the Green Building Movement.

The UA is very proud of its leadership role in Skilled Trades Training. For the past three years we have been training instructors to certify our members in Green Systems Awareness. The program is also open to our Employer Partners as well as to the general public.

The UA Green Systems Awareness program has recently been recognized by the United States Green Building Council's Educational Provider Program. The UA's Green Systems Awareness Certification program has met the following criteria established by the USGBC for educational programs:

- Are preeminent in green building education and align with USGBC's educational mission.
- Offer courses at all learning levels to supplement USGBC's core educational offerings.
- Are thoroughly reviewed and meet USGBC's criteria for instructional design and content quality.

The United Association is honored to have one of our educational programs in the field of Sustainable Technology receive this recognition by the United States Green Building Council.

Some new green developers naively start off by asking "What is the minimum amount of training necessary for a person to build, inspect and maintain green buildings?" Well, the fact is that, at the UA, we don't have "minimum training."

Welcome to UAWEB

"Trade unions are the legitimate outgrowth of modern societary and industrial conditions. They were born of the necessity of workers to protect and defend themselves from encroachment, injustice and wrong...to protect the workers in their inalienable rights to a higher and better life; to secure to them...the right to be full sharers in the abundance which is the result of their brain and brawn...The attainment of these is the glorious mission of the trade unions."

Samuel Gompers, First President of the AFL

All About UA

Alaska presents a formidable landscape for a university system: a land mass one-fifth the size of the continental United States; campuses thousands of miles apart; and weather that would shut down most Lower 48 schools. But this vast environment of rainforest, tundra, coastal shores and mountains is home to the University of Alaska system, established in 1917.

The university system started as the Alaska Agricultural College and School of Mines in Fairbanks, later renamed the University of Alaska. That first year, the campus was a single two-story frame building and had just six students. The school was renamed the University of Alaska in 1935.

In 1954, Anchorage Community College (now known as the University of Alaska Anchorage) was incorporated into the University of Alaska. That next year, Juneau Community College was established and was later named the University of Alaska Southeast.

The UA system's largest hubs (UAA, UAF and UAS) are separately accredited institutions, as is Prince William Sound Community College in Valdez. System-wide, nearly 35,000 full- and part-time students are enrolled, studying among 500 unique degree, certificate or endorsement programs. Study areas include short-course workforce training, associate degrees, bachelor's and master's degrees, as well as doctorates. Programs include a wide array of the sciences, engineering, teacher and early childhood education, business, journalism and communications, aviation, health occupations, history, English, the arts and humanities and many others.

Per the Alaska Constitution, an 11-member board of regents governs the system. The system president serves as the board's chief executive officer. Chancellors for each of the hubs—UAA, UAF and UAS—report to the president. The university employs roughly 7,000 people and contributes an estimated $1 billion annually to the Alaska economy.

History of the UA Foundation

The UA Foundation was established in 1974 through the impetus of Brian Brundin who was then serving as a Regent of the University of Alaska. The State Legislature at the time sought to have the University's appropriation of state dollars reduced by the value of the gifts it received from private donors. Regent Brundin correctly saw that this would quickly reduce donors' desires to make gifts to the institution if they saw that such gifts were merely replacing government funds. A successful attorney, Mr Brundin asked two of his law partners, John Hughes and Richard Gantz to join him as the original incorporators and directors of the Foundation.

Over the next several years the Foundation grew slowly as the University altered its policies and practices to ensure that all private gifts to support the University flowed directly to the new organization. A large financial boost was provided when the annual gifts from the University's earliest and most successful fundraising drives in support of KUAC were received by the Foundation.

In 1976 the three member Board of Directors (now renamed as a Board of Trustees) was expanded to include some of Alaska's most prominent and successful citizens with the goal of incorporating these individuals in the Foundation's efforts to attract more and larger gifts. As a result, in 1979, the Foundation realized just over $250,000 in gifts and bequests.

The first major fundraising project of the Foundation commenced in 1981 with the formation of a "Committee of Measurable Objectives" which later became the Alaska Research Development Project. Nearly $300,000 was eventually raised by the Trustees for the effort that eventually resulted in the formation of the Alaska Science and Technology Foundation.

In 1982 the Foundation established a membership group called the College of Fellows as part of its structure. This group allowed the Foundation to enlist even more supporters to become involved in the University's activities and in raising funds for its programs. Through the efforts of these committed individuals the annual gifts to the Foundation passed the $1million mark in 1983.

In order to manage properly the affairs of the expanding Foundation an Executive Committee was first formed in 1985 and two years later the Board of Trustees was expanded in size to 15 members.

As the Foundation's assets grew from increased donations during the 80's it became apparent that a formal investment committee was needed to properly manage and invest the Foundation's expanding asset base – especially its long term endowments. Thus, in 1987, Foundation President Paul Meyerhoff appointed the first Investment Committee of the Foundation and in that same year the first formal Foundation investment policy was adopted by the Trustees. At that time the Foundation's total assets had surpassed the $9 Million mark.

With the three universities that make up the University of Alaska gaining more students and more programs, separate development offices were established during the mid 80's at UAA and UAF, and later at UAS. In order to align the Foundation with these three very distinct regional campuses the Foundation underwent a major reorganization in 1989 to mirror that of its beneficiary. The College of Fellows was divided into three branches, one for each of the three universities in the system. The Board of Trustees was expanded to include representation from each of the branches. In that year gifts and bequests to the Foundation totaled just under $2 million.

Also in 1989 the Trustees agreed to a request by the University's Board of Regents to raise money for the construction of a new President's Residence. The five year effort culminated in 1994 when the $1.3 Million residence was occupied by UA President Jerome Komisar.

The Foundation moved more forcefully into its advocacy and public relations role in 1995 when it made its first grant of funds for a public education campaign. In that same year the Foundation Board began its annual spring "fly-ins" to Juneau during which teams of Trustees and members of the College of Fellows met with legislators to advocate for the University's budget.

In 1997 the Foundation's responsibilities grew markedly when it took over the management of the University's $43 Million Land Grant Trust fund under a cooperative agreement with the Board of Regents. That same year donations and bequest received by the Foundation exceeded $5 Million.

Another significant organizational change at the Foundation occurred in 2000 when the Foundation received a $500,000 grant from the Rasmuson Foundation designed to catalyze the University and Foundation's efforts to centralize their fundraising functions. Augmented by matching funds from the University and the Foundation, the $1.1 million, three-year project resulted in the combining of the University's several donor databases into a single system accessible to all the campuses, the creation and staffing of a centralized Statewide Development office, and the provision of funds to the campus development offices to assist them in adapting to the new centralized system. At the close of 2001 the Foundation's assets had passed the $100 Million milestone.

Finally, in 2005 the Foundation embarked on its most recent and profound organizational change. Following a report prepared by consultants from the Association of Governing Boards, the Board of Trustees approved a new structure and bylaws that divested the Foundation of the College of Fellows, upgraded the position of Executive Director to Foundation President, established fees for gifts and the management of funds, reorganized and revitalized the Board of Trustees, and increased the Foundation and University development staff by several new positions in the area of planned giving, data management, and prospect research. That same year the total gifts received by the Foundation exceeded $12 Million and its total assets under management surpassed $243 Million.

Wildcats Head to Sweet 16

The No. 6 seed Arizona men's basketball team will open play in the 2013 NCAA West Regional semifinal against No. 2 seed Ohio State on March 28 at the Staples Center in Los Angeles. This will mark the second trip to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 under head coach Sean Miller and Arizona's 15th trip to the regional semifinals in program history.

UA Project Sage

While going green may be a relatively new calling card for many American universities, the University of Arizona has been going green since its inception in 1885. UANews is showcasing the connection that our long and proud legacy of environmental stewardship has with our growing status as a global leader in advancing environmental sustainability.

Sustainability at the UA is grassroots movement embraced by our students, employees, alumni and supporters.

Special Reports

Sustainability Along Border and Tribal Lands

Faculty across the UA are providing scientific, policy and cultural expertise in an effort to balance sustainability, security and tradition.

Biosphere 2 Studies Sustainability

Biosphere 2, built in the 1980s, is the largest attempt ever to create a natural environment. The UA College of Science assumed management of the facility in 2007.

Climate Change Research a Team Effort

University climate research involves scholars in fields ranging from Earth science to engineering, law and social sciences to public health, and agriculture to the humanities and art. Collaboration has improved the University's public outreach efforts.

Students Leading the Way

University of Arizona students are pushing to make the campus – and the surrounding community – a greener place to study, work and live.

Sustainability in the Classroom

Student and faculty interest in sustainability courses is growing, helping to make the University of Arizona a hotbed for study and implementation. The UA currently offers more than 160 courses with a focus on sustainability

Achieving Sustainability Through Agriculture

Long before there was a green movement, the UA was making extraordinary advances in sustainability. For more than a century, the UA College of Agriculture and Life Sciences has been conducting innovative research, developing new technology and educating the public on how to preserve the planet's precious natural resources.

A Sustainable Campus

The UA campus has been a model of environmental sustainability long before the green movement. Even as it grows, innovative projects are minimizing the University's environmental footprint.

Sustainability Through Engineering

Engineering students and faculty are developing innovative methods to reduce the environmental footprint of semiconductor manufacturing, copper mining and solar power generation. Their efforts have already had extraordinary impacts on industry.

Sustainable Architecture and Landscapes for the Desert

Desert dwellers can look to innovative UA architecture students and faculty for a more energy-and-water efficient built environment. They design, construct and test affordable dwellings and landscapes suited to the beauty – and the limitations – of our arid land.

Leading the Way in Water Research

UA water researchers across dozens of disciplines are tackling fundamental questions regarding water availability, quality and use.

Bringing Solar Power to the Masses

Researchers throughout The University of Arizona are involved in innovative efforts to make solar power an affordable energy alternative to fossil fuels.

About UA

Here you will find excellence in the breadth and quality of our 300 academic degree programs, and in the highly talented faculty who will help mold you into a critical thinker. Here you will find a metropolitan setting that places you in the heart of a dynamic, regional economy, and in sync with the pulse of business, government and the community. Most important, here you will discover energy, in the high-tech classrooms of our new academic buildings, in our new Student Union and Student Recreation and Wellness Center, and among the 200 student organizations on campus.

Excellence, opportunity and energy. You will find all three at The University of Akron.

Our history

The institution now known as The University of Akron was founded as Buchtel College in 1870 by the Ohio Universalist Convention, which was strongly influenced by the efforts, energy and financial support of Akronites, particularly industrialist John R. Buchtel. By 1907, Buchtel College's emphasis on local rather than denominational interests led it to become a private, non-denominational school.

A Campaign for UA

Accelerate.

The Accelerate campaign was designed to do exactly what its name implies: increase activity, development, and progress at The University of Akron. The campaign fully supports the University's new gold standard of performance, Vision 2020, which capitalizes on UA's distinctive competencies as it approaches its sesquicentennial and underscores its commitment to fiscal integrity, academic excellence, quality assurance, and strategic investment.

For Vision 2020 to achieve its aspirational goals (see sidebar), the Accelerate campaign serves as an important tool, forming critical partnerships – with alumni, friends, corporations, and foundations – to generate funds that continue to drive the University forward.

As of December 31, 2012, more than $870 million has been raised – toward a $1 billion goal – for scholarships, endowments, buildings, and programs.

Your gift to the Accelerate campaign supports Vision 2020's five strategic Pathways to Success:

The Akron Experience: Academic and Inclusive Excellence

Fund and endow comprehensive and transformative learning experiences for each student, creating multiple opportunities for academic, professional, and personal success.

Globally Relevant and Distinctive Programs

Create a University experience that reflects a global and multicultural mindset, with international learning opportunities for students and faculty, as well as globally relevant courses across disciplines.

Interdisciplinary Clusters of Entrepreneurial Innovation

Support programs that encourage collaboration among scholars, teachers, researchers, and students, creating new opportunities for research excellence with greater relevancy to industry.

Connectivity for Economic Vitality

Invest in collaborations and partnerships that are connected to the economic health of the community, resulting in greater revenue through funded research, knowledge transfer and patent approval, public-private investments in growth, and continuously enhanced learning environments.

Campus and Community Enhancement and Engagement

Continue to improve the learning, living, intellectual, and social experiences for faculty, students, and staff through innovative public-private partnerships that strengthen the University's position as a cultural hub and contribute to a vibrant community.

To learn more about Accelerate and how you can contribute, contact the University's Department of Development at development@uakron.edu or 330-972-7238.

Aspirational Goals of Vision 2020

VIDEO FEATURE

President Proenza and Provost Sherman discuss Vision 2020

Twelve distinctive aspirations provide a foundation for achieving Vision 2020 and reflect the University's commitment to the principles of relevance (delivering tangible benefits to the campus and community), connectivity (achieving greater impact through partnerships, collaborations, and collective initiatives), and productivity (adding value to the ecosystem with the University as an active agent of opportunity and innovation). These aspirational goals are:

- Enroll up to 40,000 students
- Increase diversity
- Increase graduation rates
- Enhance job placement
- Diversify revenue sources
- Increase annual research expenditures
- Increase private philanthropy
- Attain national recognition for The Akron Experience
- Revitalize the campus neighborhood
- Achieve recognition as a leader in academic innovation
- Attain national recognition for The Akron Model
- Benchmark achievements against national and international peer universities

*Miles shown are the actual miles flown for this segment. Fare class, Premier qualifying miles and other promotional bonuses are not included in the total miles shown. The award miles accrued on codeshare flights are based on the operating carrier and their equivalent fare class. This could result in differences between the purchased booking class and the booking class flown, which determines the number of base and Premier qualifying miles and Premier qualifying segments earned. MileagePlus award miles are not awarded for travel on airlines that are not MileagePlus partners. Miles indicated for non-partner flights or flight segments will not be awarded. MileagePlus award miles earned will vary depending on the Premier status of the customer.
